Hymn Time:

"For the Beauty of the Earth"
Folliott Pierpoint (1835-1917)

Not much is known about Folliott Pierpoint, the author of this hymn. He was born in Bath, England, a lovely town nestled in the hills. Today in Bath, one can still view the large pools of mineral baths for which the town was named.

Folliott was a professor of the classics at Somerset College and later became a freelance writer. The inspiration for this hymn was said to come to Folliott as he was strolling around Bath one day in late spring, enjoying the beautiful countryside with the winding Avon River in the distance. Folliott also recalled his social blessings of friends and home.

Above all, however, were the spiritual blessings as represented by the church, God's chosen agency for accomplishing His divine purpose in the world.

About the Message:

How much money do you have right now? What is your net worth? If I really asked those questions to your face, you would likely be highly offended and tell me it's none of my business. Or how much stuff and junk we have about the house? Items, things, clutter that we surround ourselves with assuming that makes us happy? That is the whole point of "our daily bread". Until we define what exactly that is and how we define that. We never get to the forgive "our debts and debtors" part. For you, what is your daily bread and more importantly, what Jesus sees as our daily bread.

Confession of Faith

This is what we confess as a Body of Christ. The Bible is the inerrant Word of God. The sole authority in all matters of life and faith. We confess that Jesus Christ alone is the only name of Salvation. We confess that the Holy Spirit alone brings New Life and holiness to the Church. Guided by such, we affirm, and we as a Body of Christ stand upon the solid rock of our Lord Jesus Christ, and we will not be moved.
