Hymn Time:

"Christ the Lord is Risen Today"
Charles Wesley (1707-1788)

Today's hymn has been one of the church's most popular Easter hymns since it was first written by Charles Wesley in 1738. Right after graduating from Oxford University in 1735, Charles decided to sail to America. He came to the New World to evangelize the colonists in Georgia and the Indians. Charles soon became disillusioned with the situation and returned to England after only a short time.

As he crossed the Atlantic, Charles was impressed by a devout group of Moravians who seemed to have such spiritual depth and vitality, as well as a heart for lost souls. After returning to London, Charles met with some Moravians in 1738. Charles had a "heart-warming experience", realizing that even though he had been zealous in religious activity for most of his life, he had never personally known either God's forgiveness or real joy. From that time on his ministry displayed a new dimension of spiritual power.

If all of our eternity is to be realized on this side of the grave, we are hopeless and to be pitied (I Corinthians 15:19). But for the Christian, the resurrection assures us of God's tomorrow. This anticipation makes it possible to live joyfully today, regardless of life's circumstances.
