"I Sing the Mighty Power of God"
Isaac Watts (1674-1748)

Should we sing psalms or hymns in our church services? This was the controversy stirring many congregations during the 17th and 18th centuries. Isaac Watts was a life-long champion of the "humanly composed" hymn while the majority of the English-speaking churches insisted on singing only ponderous metrical psalms. Tempers frequently flared, and some churches actually split in the heat of this unharmonious musical conflict. In some churches a compromise was reached. The psalms would be sung in the early part of the church service with a hymn used at the close, during which time many parishioners either refused to sing or simply left.

Isaac showed unusual talent at an early age, learning Latin when he was 5, Greek at 9, French at 11 and Hebrew at 12. As Isaac grew up, he became increasingly disturbed by the uninspiring psalm singing in the English churches. He commented, "The singing of God's praise is the part of worship most closely related to Heaven. But its performance among us is the worst on earth." Isaac wrote over 600 hymns and is known as the "father of English hymnody".

About the Message:

The Psalmist tells us that "weeping may remain for a night but joy comes in the morning. The long night is almost over, and a new day is almost here. A day when we will finally meet Jesus face to face; a day when trouble will be in the past and quickly forgotten." Maranatha! Let's talk about it.

The Lord's Prayer:

Our Father who art in heaven, hallowed be thy name.

Thy kingdom come. Thy will be done on earth, as it is in heaven.

Give us this day our daily bread, and forgive us our debts, as we forgive our debtors.

And lead us not into temptation, but deliver us from evil.

For thine is the kingdom, and the power, and the glory forever. Amen.
