Hymn Time:

"Be Thou My Vision"
Dallan Forgaill (560-640)

According to legend, when St. Patrick was a missionary in Ireland in the 5th century, King Logaire of Tara decreed that no one was allowed to light any fires until a pagan festival was begun by the lighting of a fire on Slane Hill. In a move of defiance against this pagan ritual, St. Patrick did light a fire, and, rather than execute him, the king was so impressed by his devotion that he let Patrick continue his missionary work.

Three centuries later, a monk named Dallan Forgaill wrote the Irish poem, "Rop tu mo Baile" (Be Thou my Vision), to remember and honor the faith of St. Patrick. Forgaill was martyred by pirates, but his poetry lived on as a part of the Irish monastic tradition for centuries until, in the early 20th century, Mary Elizabeth Byrne translated the poem into English, and in 1912, Eleanor Hull versified the text into what is now a well-loved hymn and prayer that at every moment of our lives, God would be our vision above all else.

About the Message:

Scripture records over 42 "healing" events or miracles of Jesus. And about 30% of the Gospel content just tell healing stories. Why did the Gospel writers feel it was so important to devote so much of the Jesus story to Healing and Healing miracles? And when Jesus does heal, what is trying to say to us and teach us? Good questions all.

Confession of Faith

This is what we confess as a Body of Christ. The Bible is the inerrant Word of God. The sole authority in all matters of life and faith. We confess that Jesus Christ alone is the only name of Salvation. We confess that the Holy Spirit alone brings New Life and holiness to the Church. Guided by such, we affirm, and we as a Body of Christ stand upon the solid rock of our Lord Jesus Christ, and we will not be moved.
